

Ken Crowther was our first speaker of the year at the Little Waltham Gardening Club meeting in February. Ken spoke about the changing face of gardening over the years mentioning that he started as an apprentice with London Parks. Ken suggested that we should try and group colours together in our gardens to make more impact. The use of chemicals was discussed and he said how they used to get rid of moss on lawns with mercury. Ken advised us that he had been lucky to choose a career that he's enjoyed and is still enjoying to this day. He now has a show on City Sound radio in addition to a website for gardening advice www.worldradiogardening.com

The President's Trophy for February was Anything Blooming in your Garden. This was won by Lesley with a beautiful camelia. Our next meeting is the AGM on 6 March. Following this is the Spring Show on 6th April - please check our website www.littlewalthamgardeningclub.co.uk for more information.
